

THE NAME GAME

Broccoli, carrots, corn and kale are just a few of the super-powered veggies that you can find at the market, but there are many many more! Let's play a fun game and think about what other kinds of fruits and vegetables you can find at the market.

HOW TO PLAY: Sit in a circle with your friends or family. Have one person sit in the middle and think of a fruit or vegetable that he/she likes. Each person will then take turns asking yes or no questions until they guess the name of the fruit or veggie that the person in the middle is thinking about. The person who guesses correctly gets one point and then gets to sit in the middle of the circle and the game starts again!

Some Sample Questions to ask:

Is it a fruit? Is it a vegetable?

Is it round? Is it long? Is it small?

Is it sweet? Does it have seeds? Does it have a pit?

Is it green (or red or yellow etc.)? Does it come in many colors?

Does it grow on a tree? Does it grow in the ground?

Can you eat the skin? Do you have to peel it?
